

For Immediate Release: January 30, 2015

Sac-Con, Sacramento's Comic, Toy and Anime show, moves to new location.

Sacramento, Ca – Sac-Con, Sacramento's Original Comic Con is moving to a new, larger location, the McClellan Conference Center, Sunday, March 1, 2015. The Comic, Toy and Anime Convention is expecting over 3,000 attendees for this one day event.

Over 40 special guests will be in attendance, consisting of artists, actors and musical guests. Guests include Kevin Eastman (co-creator of Teen Age Mutant Ninja Turtles), Darryl "DMC" McDaniels (RunDMC and creator of Darryl Makes Comics), Vic Mignogna (the voice of the Fullmetal Alchemist's Edward Elric, as well as playing Captain Kirk in the web series, Star Trek Continues). Return of the Jedi Reunion with David Barclay (Jabba the Hut, Yoda and Dark Crystal puppeteer), Erick Bauersfeld (the voice of Bib Fortuna and Admiral Ackbar), Stephen Costantino (Gamorrean Guard) and Julius LeFlore (Storm Trooper, Biker Scout, stunt double for Billy Dee Williams), Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles (TMNT) Reunion with Jeremy Howard, (Donatello from the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles-2014) Ernie Reyes Jr. (martial artist, star of TMNT II- The Secret of the Ooze, Barry Gordy's the Last Dragon) and Michelan Sisti (TMNT-I, II Michaelangelo), also C.J. Graham (known for playing Jason Voorhees in the Friday the 13th film series) and much more. All will be available for autographs and or panels throughout the event.

Event highlights include a cosplay costume contest, exhibitor room featuring vendors and artists, gaming tournaments, amateur art contest, charity raffle and more.

Sac-Con is open to the public and prides itself of being family friendly. Admission is $10. Parking is free. Children 8 and under are free.

About Sac-Con

Sac-Con was born on July 1, 1986 at the Sierra Inn now known as the Ramada Inn on Auburn Blvd. Sac-Con soon moved to the Scottish Rite Center where it was held quarterly for over 15 years. Bursting at the seams, Sac-Con is ready for its next big move. Sac-Con will now be held at the McClellan Conference Center where it has room to grow along with its fan base. Sac-Con will now have well over 200 vendor tables, tons of free parking and room for even more guests. What began as a typical comic book convention has evolved into a mixture of comic books, toys, anime, sci-fi/horror and all things dealing with pop culture entertainment. Sac-Con's philosophy is and always will be to provide fun, safe, family oriented entertainment for a reasonable price. Where else can you go to get an entire day's worth of entertainment for only $10.00?

www.sac-con.com

###

For more information, contact: Dan Houck, Owner press@sacanime.com
(916) 607-1849